cubitech

Cubitech was founded in 2001 in Cambridge, UK. Initially, our focus was on the development of compression and storage algorithms for digital video recorders and remote CCTV monitoring applications. Since then, Cubitech has evolved through the years to become a leader in the Security and Surveillance market.

As an innovative company, we develop flexible solutions for the Security and Surveillance Industry. Our success is based on the use of advanced applications and optimized methodologies. We always aim for the best possible results, offering services of the highest quality.

Developers of the Cubis Software and the Cubis Barebone Systems, we always strive for implementing flexible and turnkey solutions that are characterized by our expertise and ongoing effort to add value to our customers. As a result, we are proud to maintain notable rates of repeating customers and a continuous increase in market share.
